

Watch out for these common fraud tactics

FRAUD AWARENESS

Stay Alert
Stay Protected.

Don't let Fraudsters steal your information

Fraudsters may pretend to be insurance agents, company representatives, regulators, or even customer service executives. Their goal is simple: steal your money, personal information, or policy details.

Common Red Flags

Promises of bonuses, refunds, commissions, or unclaimed benefits

Pressure to act immediately because an offer is "expiring today"

Calls asking for OTPs, passwords, PAN, Aadhaar, bank details, or UPI PIN

Messages containing suspicious links or look-alike websites

Requests to transfer money to personal bank accounts or UPI IDs

Offers that sound too good to be true

Stay safe

Simple steps to protect yourself

Verify Before You Trust

Always check the identity of agents, representatives, and callers before sharing any information.

Use Official Channels Only

Make payments only through authorized company platforms, branches, or approved payment modes.

Protect Personal Information

Never share OTPs, passwords, UPI PINs, login credentials, or sensitive documents with anyone.

Remember, We Will Never

Ask for your OTP or password

Request premium payments into personal accounts

Guarantee unrealistic returns or bonus payouts

Charge fees to release policy benefits or claims

Ask you to surrender an existing policy for "special benefits"

If You suspect Fraud

- 01 Stop all communication immediately.
- 02 Do not share any additional information.
- 03 Save screenshots, messages, call details, and transaction records.
- 04 Contact our customer service team through official channels.

Think Before You Click.

Verify Before You Pay.

Stay Alert.

Stay secure.

Stay Insured.